

Territorial Defense

Vision

Territorial Defense is a role-playing game for PC/Mac platforms where a warrior protects his village from some monsters by fighting with them in the forest. The player controls the warrior to find some monsters and fight with them so that the player can experience the thrill of fighting.

High Level

- Role-Playing Game
- The player can move using the keyboard(WASD) controls in the nature
- The player can damage monsters using a gun
- The player can damage monsters using a sword
- The player can be attacked by monsters in nature and be killed
- The monsters can chase players when the player is within their attack range
- The player can run out of the attacking range of monsters
- The player must kill all of the monsters on the map

Baseline Narrative

Maxwell is a warrior and responsible for protecting the village and family. One day, some monsters came to his town ready to destroy his home. Maxwell grabs his gun and sword and plans to kill these monsters in nature and protect his family. Maxwell's task is to kill all of the monsters in the forest.

Gameplay

- The player must move forward and find monsters
 - There are three monsters on the map and kill all of them
 - When the player is in the range attacking range of monsters, they will chase the player
- The player has two weapons to attack monsters and these two weapons have different damage values
 - The player can attack monsters using a gun that has 10 damage value
 - The player can attack monsters using a sword that has 50 damage value
- The player must kill all of the monsters in the forest and survive
 - When the player is close to monsters, they can use a sword that has a greater damage value, but he will be attacked by monsters easily.
 - The player has 100 health value points, while the monsters have 20 damage per hit.

Visuals

- Third-person perspective game
- Nature, trees, mountains
- Beautiful wood houses
- The monsters are giants and fierce looking
- The player role is little and brave.

Touchstones

- Dungeon Fighter
- Diablo
- Attack On Titan